PAANO BA AYUSIN?

1. Kapag may problema'y paano ayusin?
Iyan yaong paksa na tatalakayin, Problema'y paglayo sa normal na tingin,
At sa normal ano ang dapat na gawin.
2. Alamin kung anong bagay ang nagbago,
Sukatin ang layo sa normal na gusto,
Hanapin kung saan naliko nang husto.
Sino ang lumikha at nagkaganito?
3. Matapos makita ang tao at lugar Na pinanggalingan nitong hindi normal
Suriin ang tao at bigyan ng aral,
At ang lugar naman ayusing mainam.
4. Sa paglutas nitong isang suliranin, Marapat totoo lahat ay hanapin, Pumili ng taong doon ay magaling,
At siya'y ilagay sa kanyang tungkulin.
5. Mula sa simulang liko ang proseso,
Doon pasimulang gawin ang trabaho,
Ang taong nangulo sa paglutas nito, Bigyan nitong utos magreport sa iyo.
6. Wala namang bagay na napakahirap
Na hindi makaya ng taong tutupad, Bigyan ng suporta at tamang paglingap
Ang ganyang simula ay may tamang sipat.
7. Sapagka't problema ay likas sa atin,
Ito ang pagsubok na kakabakahin, Sa temang ganito tao'y sinasaling, At pinatitibay sa kanyang landasin.
8. Hanapin ang tao na nagtatagumpay,
Suriin ang lahat nitong kanyang buhay,
Paano inayos niya ang liko't lumbay, Doon niya kinuha tagumpay sa kamay.

Curriculum adjustment to make graduates...

"Katulad ng nabanggit ni Vice President Sara, mag-uumpisa tayo po tayo sa curriculum adjustment kasi iyon naman po talaga iyong hinahanap - iyong competencies doon, iyong skills doon, iyong talento po, iyong pag-equip po natin, capacity building sa ating mga estudyante. At iyon po iyong sinasabi na pag-adjust po natin ng curriculum para simplified siya at tumutugon po siya sa pangangailangan po na makapagtrabaho iyong mga gustong magtrabaho na kabataang Pilipino pagkatapos ng K-12 (Just like what Vice President Sara said, we need to start with curriculum adjustment. Because these are what [industries] are looking for--the competencies, skills, talents. We must equip our students with these and build their capacity. That's why we need to adjust the curriculum to make it simplified and attuned to the needs of the Filipino youth who want to get jobs after K to 12)," he said.

He said parents have been complaining about the additional financial burden because of the unfulfilled promise of employment that the K to 12 system offered after graduation from senior high school.

"Sinasabi sa atin ng industriya, hindi nila nai-employ eh pagkatapos ng K-12. So dapat po talaga ayusin natin, mag-adjust na po tayo, simplehan na po natin. Siguraduhin lang po natin na iyong matututunan noong ating mga mag-aaral sa K-12 ay handa sila sa mga trabaho na nag-aabang para sa kanila. Kapag nagawa po natin iyon, tingin ko naman po iyong nasasabi po na additional burden po na two years ay kahit papaano ay unti-unting mawawala iyan (The industries have been telling us that they do not hire K to 12 graduates. So we really need to fix this [curriculum], adjust it, and make it simpler. We just have to ensure that whatever the K to 12 students will learn would prepare them for the jobs that await them. If we are able to do that, then I think, the additional burden of two years would gradually be lifted)," he added.

According to the Bureau of Curriculum Development, 83 percent of SHS graduates pursued higher education, while only 10 percent of graduates were employed.

During the Basic Education Report (BER) 2023 on Monday, Duterte vowed to revise the K to 12 Curriculum "to make them more responsive to our aspiration as a nation, to develop lifelong learners who are imbued with 21st-century skills, discipline, and patriotism."

She emphasized consulting experts, adapting to local and international best practices and formulating decisions based on evidence to equip children with appropriate skills, instead of mere familiarity.

Duterte then called on the industries to help the sector in breaking down school-to-employment gaps or mismatches.

"To make our graduates employable, we appeal to the industry, and to employers, to accept our students in work immersions, and hire them when they graduate," she said.

The DepEd shall also work closely with the Commission on Higher Education and Technical Education and Skills Training Authority to address job mismatch.

As for the efforts of the House of Representatives to improve the country's education system, Romulo said the chamber unanimously approved on third and final reading House Bill 6572, or the proposed Public Schools of the Future in Technology Act (PSOFT) Act.

The bill would implement a PSOFT Program in all public elementary and secondary schools with the goal of incorporating technological innovations and approaches into the teaching and learning processes.

A PSOFT Inter-Agency Task Force would be established to develop a road map to ensure that programs and projects are aimed at improving educational quality through the use of digital technology.

Romulo also highlighted that HB 6574, or the proposed Basic Education Mental Health and Well-Being Act, hurdled third and final reading with 272 affirmative votes.

This measure would promote the emotional, psychological, and mental health well-being of learners and teachers to enhance their learning preparedness, including learner-children in conflict with the law, student at risk of dropping out, learner-victims of violence against women and children, and learner-victims to other related forms of child abuse and criminal acts. million project, which was implemented by the DPWH Aurora District Engineering Office (DEO), also included the construction of a 405-lineal-meter flood control structure and a 346.5-lineal-meter approach road. According to Director Tolentino, locals used to brave an old, wooden, and worn-out Real Bridge that can only cater to light vehicles such as motorcycles. Director Tolentino added that other vehicles had to travel an additional 15 to 20 minutes to the barangays of Nonong and L. Pimentel just to cross the river especially when the water rises during heavy rains and typhoons. With the completed project, residents of Barangays Dibut and Dibalo now have a more reliable bridge infrastructure with an increased carrying capacity to access hubs in the municipality such as the San Luis Town Center located in Barangay Poblacion.

Filipino scientist's induction into Royal Society of Arts hailed MANILA – President Ferdinand R. Marcos Jr. on Wednesday congratulated multi-awarded Filipino scientist Glenn Banaguas for being the first science diplomat from the Philippines to become a fellow of London-based Royal Society of Arts (RSA).

Marcos, on his official Facebook page, relayed his congratulatory message to Banaguas.

"Isang pagpupugay sa ating kababayan na si Glenn Banaguas sa pagkakaluklok sa kanya sa prestihiyosong Royal Society of Arts sa United Kingdom (We honor our fellow Filipino, Glenn Banaguas, for being inducted into the prestigious Royal Society of Arts in the United Kingdom)," he said.

Marcos said Banaguas' induction proves that Filipinos can excel in their chosen field.

"Tunay ngang ang galing at talino ng mga Pilipino ay m a i p a g m a m a l a k i saan man sa mundo. Maraming salamat sa kahusayang iyong patuloy na ipinamamalas (Indeed, Filipinos are worthy of commendation wherever they are because of their skills and knowledge. Thanks to Banaguas for his excellence)," he said.

Founded in 1754 by English social reformist and inventor William Shipley, the RSA was granted a Royal Charter in 1847 and the right to use the term Royal in its name by King Edward VII in 1908.

The RSA, also known as the Royal Society for the Encouragement of Arts, Manufactures, and Commerce, has been at the forefront of significant social impact for over 260 years, with a mission to enrich society through ideas and action.

RSA Fellowship is a unique global network of changemakers enabling people, places and the planet to flourish.

Notable RSA fellows include Charles Dickens, George Washington Carver, David Attenborough, Nelson Mandela, Tim Berners-Lee, Karl Marx, Marie Curie, Stephen Hawking and Benjamin Franklin.
